

BOSE ANNOUNCES NEW SOLO 15 SERIES II TV SOUND SYSTEM

Better Sound For Your TV, Now With Bluetooth® for Streaming Music Wirelessly

September 21, 2015 -- Today, Bose introduces the new Solo 15 series II TV sound system, an update to its best-performing pedestal TV speaker. The Solo 15 system is an unobtrusive speaker that makes TV sound dramatically better and requires just one connection from the speaker to the TV. It includes Bluetooth connectivity for streaming your music wirelessly, and an updated, advanced remote that makes controlling the system, TV and other connected sources easier than ever.

The new Solo 15 series II system measures just 62.9cm wide, 35.6cm deep and 7.6cm high, and fits under most televisions with screen sizes of up to 50". It features five drivers for wide, spacious sound, including a dedicated centre speaker to make speech and dialogue more understandable. The Solo 15 series II system has a separate "dialogue" mode that brings words more to the forefront, digital signal processing for optimal sound at any listening level, and proprietary TrueSpace® technology that distributes audio well beyond the screen and speaker itself. And as more and more TV programming relies on dramatic soundtracks and music, the Bose® Solo 15 series II system reproduces the full-frequency range, including deep low notes you can adjust with a bass control function on the included universal remote. So whatever you're watching -- from network programming to entertainment shows, news, concerts or sports -- you get the entire experience: amazing video and equally remarkable audio.

With built-in Bluetooth technology, the new Solo 15 series II system can also double as a wireless music system for streaming playlists, music services, or virtually anything else from your phone or tablet. So everything you listen to through Bluetooth headphones and portable Bluetooth speakers can now be played through the Solo 15 series II system just as easily, but with more power and performance.

The Bose Solo 15 series II TV sound system is available from Bose beginning on September 21 2015, for AUD $649.00 / NZD $779.00 inc GST. It's available at Bose retail stores, authorised Bose dealers, Bose.com.au and Bose.co.nz.
